Boy: Guess what! I have a cat!

Girl: Wow, that's so cool.

Boy: Yeah, we got it from the shelter yesterday. We called him Fluffy. Look, I have a photo of him.

Girl: Aww, he's really cute. He's got a striped tail!

Boy: Yeah, and spots on his back. Your cat looks similar, doesn't he?

Girl: My cat? No, my cat's all black!

Girl: I'm bored. Let's play a game.

Boy: All right. Let me turn the console on...Which game do you want to play? I love playing this racing game, it's my favourite one.

Girl: I'm afraid I won't be good at it. What's this one about?

Boy: You're a snowboarder in this game. But it's a bit boring. Oh, I know. I have a game where you're a detective looking for hidden clues. We can solve the riddles together.

Girl: Great idea!

Boy: Hi, Anna. I'm sorry that I'm answering so late in the afternoon, but I didn't see your message. It's not difficult to get to Simon's house. Take the tram number 11 and get off at the last stop. Then, go straight on for about 200 metres, pass the supermarket and turn left. Simon lives in a yellow block of flats. It's flat 6, on the second floor. So... see you at Simon's birthday party! Bye!

Girl: Hi mum! Guess what! We've just come back from the seaside. The weather here's great, it's sunny all the time so I think I won't need the raincoat at all. All the children at the camp are really friendly. I forgot to take my sunglasses, but Mary lent me hers, so that's OK. Anyway, tomorrow we're going to visit a castle. I still have some money left so I hope I'll buy you some great souvenirs. That's all for today, I'll call tomorrow. Bye!

Boy: I guess that the last time when I spent my holiday at the seaside was when I was a little child. I don't remember much of it. I'd like to go there again but my parents prefer spending holidays in the mountains. They enjoy hiking on mountain trails and taking photos of the beautiful surroundings.

Girl: I go to the seaside almost every year. My aunt has a small holiday house in one of the seaside resorts and she always invites us there for the summer. The house is near the beach, so we don't have to pay for the stay and I can have fun with my two cousins while my parents spend time with my aunt and her husband.

Boy: My friends encouraged me to go camping at the seaside last year. Well, the journey there was very tiring – 10 hours by train and about two hours walking with our tents and camping equipment. But it was totally worth it. The weather was perfect all week. The sea was a bit cold, but it didn't stop us from swimming.

Girl: I was very eager to go to the seaside last summer. Sadly, when we arrived it started to rain and it didn't stop for almost ten days. We spent most of our time in the hotel. It's good that it had an indoor swimming pool. My brother and I spent a lot of time in the water – not in the sea, though.

Woman: Attention all dog owners! Join us on Saturday, the 6th of July for the grand opening of the first dog park in our city! The opening ceremony will start at 9 a.m. and it will include a ribbon cutting and a planting of a tree near the dog park entrance gates. The park will be open all year round from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. and while dogs are at play, dog owners can relax at one of the 30 picnic tables or just sit on a bench. Remember that all dogs must be vaccinated. Dogs younger than 4 months of age and aggressive dogs aren't permitted in the park. And finally – always clean after your dog!
